

BLOOD WINS GOP CORONER CONTEST

AMATEUR SHOW PROGRAM TOLD FOR THIS SATURDAY ANNOUNCED

ABOUT THIS —AND— ABOUT THAT

By OLIVER GEDEIST

How Do You Feel?

Yes, how do you feel, with Grand Spring showering warm days—some days, anyway—on us? For me, Spring is the best time of the year, with life being renewed, the sap of life flowing, and green things popping up everywhere. The next, or perhaps equally, best time of the year is Summer. I know that for many the brown creeping into things in the Fall will be the charm period of the year. And all that is beautiful, and it is well that we can have it in preparation for the gloomy period when the marrow in our bones freezes and we shiver and exult about the "bracing weather." Thank you, I do not like "bracing." And I am honest enough about it to frankly admit that, whether it is the cold or merely advancing years, I JUST DO NOT LIKE IT.

Life Exultant

Spring and Summer are Life Exultant. These are the seasons when things come to life and mature—when LIFE and its life-giving influence sets afire the creative forces in the earth. Perhaps I like Spring and Summer and their creative and maturing influence because there is motion in creativeness. Creativeness expresses the soul of us, the understanding of the "mystery" of life. The thrill of creativeness warms our thoughts, lures us to loving the beauty of life, to appreciate the ingenious intricacies involved in making things "happen." To boil the thought down, Spring and Summer, with their warmth, with their RESULTS, tend to build us up, tend to build up the spiritual and physical stamina to take us through the dreary days when changing seasons take from us the pretty flowers, the green meadow, the butterflies, the glory and sweetness of all the things belonging to butterfly and honey bee time. We thus get strength to take us through the cold, heart-chilling winter. Hail to beneficent Spring!

Horrendous

Thank goodness there are no "terror birds" among us like one pictured in the big papers the other day. A reconstructed giant of the feathered species dating back many millions of birds has been placed in the Natural History Museum. Just to look at the picture gives one the creeps and reminds of the flies that were as big as cows in Dean Swift's "Gulliver's Travels." In the early days of the earth's history (or early in our finite minds) the peculiar occupants of the earth had to contend with forces as destructive as those with which modern civilization must contend. But of a different kind. And those occupants of the earth were as helpless before the giant things of their time as we are before the giant things initiated into the world by people of our time. The giants of then destroyed civilizations just as the giants of mankind's science will destroy ours.

Away With Worries

Yes, away with worries. The great national pastime has officially opened. True, the game of baseball is of passing interest, but while passing it helps youth to grow in health and adults passed game condition to sit and watch and thrill at skill of the game. Baseball has a large place and a valuable place in our scheme of things. Let's go out to the ball game—in city or in the lots. Especially in the sandlots, where baseball really begins. The youngsters will be glad to see us.

Mrs. Anna Neiland Dies in Joliet

Mrs. Anna Neiland, 74, passed away Thursday, April 15 in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Holland after a lingering illness. She was born in Frankfort township where she lived until several years ago, when she went to live with her daughter in Joliet.

She was a member of the Frankfort camp of Royal Neighbors of America. Preceded in death in 1904 by her husband, Mrs. Neiland is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Holland (Esther) and Mrs. Ray Osmus (Vera), of Jackson, Mich., a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bertha Neiland of Frankfort; a brother August Schroeder of Frankfort; eight grandchildren, nine great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the Sonntag funeral home, Joliet, with the Rev. William J. Boldt officiating. Interment was in Green Garden St. Peter's Evangelical cemetery.

Two Mother-Daughter Banquets Are Slated

The WSCS of Green Garden will sponsor a mother and daughter banquet May 4 and the Frankfort banquet will be May 14.

GRAVE STONES HIT BY GRAVE FIRES, CHARGE

Damaging of headstones or bases in St. John's cemetery, Mokena, has been charged by lot owners as a part of a recent clean-up program.

The heaviest damage, according to some of the lot owners, was done to the stones when the litter or leaves on graves were set on fire in the clean-up work. A number of stones, it has been stated, were disfigured or discolored by the heat and smoke.

Others have claimed that containers with flowers or plants were tumbled over or damaged and the contents spilled, while young growth was destroyed. One bush at the head of the grave was reported damaged.

Who has responsibility for the actual burning of the leaves on some of the graves apparently had not been established. Recently an announcement stated that Boy Scouts would help in the clean-up in the cemetery and, also, would clean up the cemetery containing the body of a Revolutionary soldier.

However, when The Semmler Newspapers called Lawrence Kohl, president of the cemetery association, he stated that the scouts were not employed in the clean-up, and stated that several men volunteered to do the work. Labor for the work is scarce, according to Mr. Kohl, and it has not been possible to hire help to do the required work in the perpetual care area.

Mr. Kohl assured the reporter that as soon as a good rain falls the unpleasant appearance resulting from fires on the graves will disappear and new growth will reappear where the fire destroyed previous plantings.

Whether disfigured stones will remain as bad as some complainants have charged is not known. Asked whether any stone owners had required or demanded reparation for damage to stones, Mr. Kohl said no demands had been received.

A number of graves were reported as disfigured as the result of the burning on the graves.

CAR JUMPS FENCE ON BAD CURVE

A Chicago car, carrying four passengers, and travelling at high speed, failed to make the turn from Hadley road onto North Cedar street, three miles north of New Lenox, early Sunday evening and somersaulted over the fence into a field near Eugene Anderson's home.

Neighbors called the sheriff's office and an ambulance and wrecker were sent from Joliet. The two couples were taken to Silver Cross hospital. All were able to walk but the extent of their injuries was not learned. The car was towed to Joliet.

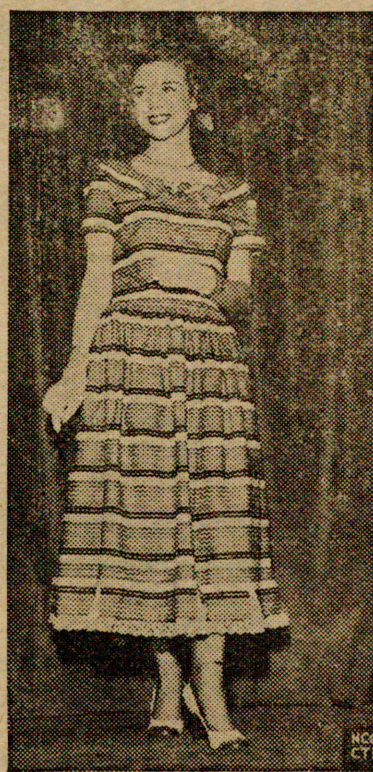

The spot has been the scene of several similar accidents because of an abrupt unmarked turn.

PLANNING FOR THE FUTURE

Architecture for an industrial age. Ludwig Mies van der Rohe, internationally famed architect and chairman of the department of architecture, Illinois Institute of Technology, shows coed Pat Vedel, 21 of 7106 Stewart avenue, a model of three of the new buildings which have been built on Illinois Tech's campus as part of the institute's long-range $15,000,000 development program. Complete model of the 100-acre campus plus scientific displays and exhibits will be put on public exhibition in Chicago April 21 and 22 at campus open house.

SWEET AND LOVELY

Sweet and lovely, both the gorgeous gal and the charming cotton frock designed by Linsk of California. The dainty cotton poplin dress features a deep square neckline outlined by the same material in a large soft bow with tight basque waist and full gathered skirt. According to National Cotton Council fashion experts, the skirt is slashed at the hemline for glimpses of white lace petticoat ruffles, and to really make talk, there's a large bow tying the hemline up in back for a more daring glimpse of the white eyelet embroidery.

ORGANIZATION RETURNS STATE LEGISLATIVE INCUMBENTS

Mokena School News By AUDREY NIETHAMMER

"Our Field Trip to Chicago"

We started out from the school about 9:30 o'clock Monday morning. On the way we enjoyed singing and talking. We arrived in Chicago about 10 o'clock and stopped at the Planetarium to look around and go to the 11 o'clock lecture. At the lecture we learned different positions of the stars, different constellations, and of myths about how they got their names. The lecture ended by noon and we were all hungry and ate our lunch in the bus while going over to the Stevens hotel to see the travel show, where we collected different pamphlets on means of travel, also we enjoyed the stage show starring Phil Baker. We arrived home by 5:30 o'clock and we all had enjoyed the day thoroughly. We want to thank every one who helped make the trip possible.

5th and 6th Grades

The following pupils have completed their reading circle requirements for this year: Juanita Burgeson, Martha Jo Doyle, Ruth Ann Stanger; Charlotte Armin; Mary Cooney, Gene Newton; Jack Newton; Patricia Perley, Doris Schmidt, Frederick Shunko; Dalbert Smeil, LaVerne Sands.

Henry Clark has been chosen as one of the contestants to appear in the amateur talent show this evening in the Joliet township high school auditorium, sponsored by the Joliet Exchange club. The three-winners of Friday's show will compete in the all-star show Sunday afternoon. Good luck, Henry!

We are looking forward to our field trip this Saturday. We plan to visit the Planetarium, Aquarium, and the children's Goodman theater.

Along with our bird study we are learning to identify various trees and bushes. The leaflets published by the Morton Arboretum are most interesting.

ZECHARIAH 1:1-6; 4: 7-8.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 24:1-6

Zechariah Pleads For Righteousness

Lesson for April 25, 1948

Dr. Newton

ZECHARIAH almost certainly was born and reared in or near Babylon, and was trained for the priesthood and ordained of the Lord as a prophet. His father, Berechiah, was the son of Iddo, the prophet. Though much younger than Haggai, about whom we studied last Sunday, Zechariah began his ministry only two months later than Haggai—a ministry which was to summon the people to righteousness as a condition essential in the rebuilding of the temple and in cleansing themselves of idolatry, if they were to throw off the yoke of their foes. The student will need to read the entire Book of Zechariah to have the background for this lesson. Also Psalm 24:1-6.

LIVING TOGETHER IN GOD'S WAY

"TURN ye unto me, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will turn unto you," Zechariah 1:3. People cannot live together in peace and harmony until first they are on speaking terms with God. The insidious onslaught of secularism was weakening the Jews at the very moment when they needed to be strong and united for the task of rebuilding the temple and restoring their life in Jerusalem.

Read further into the prophecy of Zechariah and note the admonitions of the Lord for kindness one toward another—kindness and understanding and sincerity, which are the indispensable qualities of community life.

WHAT MAKES A PEOPLE GREAT?

ZECHARIAH reminds the people that the downfall of their fathers had been due to their forgetfulness of God. He calls them now to repentance of their own sins, that they become truly a great people. "Fear not, but let your hands be strong," Zechariah 4:13.

"What makes a nation great and strong?
Not brick, nor stone, nor wood,
But justice, love and brotherhood."

Boys and girls will do well to look again at what this old prophet was saying. We long to see the United States a truly great nation. Then let us be strong in the Lord.

GOD HAS A STANDARD

READ chapter seven, verses 8-14, and 8:16-17, for some of the standards which God sets up for his people. "Execute true judgment, and show kindness and compassion every man to his brother. Oppress not the widow, the orphan, the foreigner, or the poor, and never plot evil in your hearts against one another."

Zechariah is here epitomizing the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount. All of which is to remind us today that we do not need new standards. We simply need to conform to God's eternal standards.

GOD IS TO BE SOUGHT UNTO

THE first eight chapters of Zechariah have to do with the essential qualities of life if the people are to rebuild the temple. The last six chapters deal with the general standards of life which we must accept and strive to attain if we are to be well-pleasing unto him.

I like the phrase of the fathers, "God is to be sought unto." And how are we to come into the presence of the Lord? "He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, now sworn deceitfully," Psalms 24:4.

It was not enough to rebuild the temple. God wanted his people to become living stones of integrity and fidelity in the city of God.

This we shall attain only as we seek first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness—constantly seek this daily walk with the Lord, in the light of his word.

"Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

By the Bible

If we abide by the principles taught in the Bible, our country will go on prospering and to prosper; but if we and our posterity neglect its instructions and authority, no man can tell how sudden a catastrophe may overwhelm us and bury all our glory in profound obscurity.—Daniel Webster.

The district meeting of the WSCS will be held in Tinley Park Methodist church Friday, April 23. Registration at 9 a. m. Lunch at noon.

The following members of the MYF of the Frankfort Methodist church motored to Joliet last Sunday afternoon to the Spring Rally: Seniors, Clair Warming, Henry and Norman Heisner; Neil Coleman; Raymond, Carl and Ina Ruth Schiffer; Joyce Swatek and Rose Marie Schaper. Intermediate members were Beverly Pyle, Gay and Michael Suter; Helen Howe, Patsy Heisner; Barbara Coleman; Jean Schiffer, Shirley Alexander and Gloria Dixon and Rev. Coleman.

A special offering was taken by the Frankfort and Green Garden Methodist churches for relief of the Bunker Hill Methodist church, as both church and parsonage were completely destroyed by the recent tornado.

Aprons, Table Sets, Holders Are Easy to Make at Home

By Ertta Haley

DO YOU want to add something new but simple to your own home just for the general purpose of brightening it a bit?

Or, do you have a long list of weddings and showers to attend which will require gifts of one type or another?

Either way, there are many small sewing projects which you can embark upon and emerge with lovely things for the table or kitchen or for personal use.

I know of no woman who is satisfied with the number of aprons she has, especially when she sees one lovelier than some she has. Therefore, aprons, when pretty or neatly practical, always are welcome. Brides or even older homemakers can't have enough, for they do wear out, you know.

If you want to make really pretty aprons, I'd suggest you use organdy or another delicate fabric for the main part of the apron. Half aprons are a good idea inasmuch as organdy certainly will not be used for the evening dish chore.

As for trimmings, there is no end. You might like to ruffle the heart-shaped pockets with some fragile lace and pipe the edges with more lace.

If you can do neat applique work—or can learn how—any of the floral designs are good.

Suggested Colors, Designs for Aprons

A very effective combination includes white organdy appliqued on a single large pocket with a large red flower. Carry out the flower applique in the opposite corner of the apron.

If you like bows or hearts, do them in red in much the same pattern.

Yellow organdy looks lovely when appliqued with green leaves. You might have a spray of these running along the waist and hem.

Gifts made at home . . .

For modern effect, use a pink organdy and use black flower design on two pockets.

Lavender organdy is very effective when appliqued with green or yellow designs.

If you don't want to do applique work, then use wide borders of a fine material in a solid color. The same color combinations as suggested above will work out well.

Print, checked or solid materials are very effective when trimmed with applique, or if bordered with another material. If you have a blue, black and white checked ma-

Be Smart!

One of the high fashion successes of the season is linen in natural color or in the semi-bleach that gives ever so many different tints of rich cream, sand and off-white. They're ideal for russet or tan and white footwear. You'll also find costume jewelry designed for smartly tailored dresses and suit dresses and their matching linen dusters, a lovely soft bronze sometimes with amber or lighter contrasts. The effect is new and beautifully rich.

Dress Suit

This is called a five o'clock suit, which means it is suited for dressy occasions. It's done in exciting tangerine Superla. Jo Copeland designed the dramatic costume with short chin-chin collar, cutaway jacket and peg-top skirt.

terial, use a blue solid for applique, and border with the same color solid. In this case, make the apron ties of the solid color.

If you are using a solid color, select a print that uses predominantly the same color, and use it for border and pocket trimming.

Hints on Making Applique Trimming

It's important to cut out your designs so there are no ragged edges. Use small sharp scissors or a razor blade.

Prepare the motifs by turning back the edges and either hem or press them firmly. If you are working with wash fabrics such as you would be using in aprons, it's important to have no raggedy edges.

Pin and then baste the design onto place. Sew on by means of visible whipping stitches, running or machine stitches or blanket stitches of crochet thread or yarn. In some cases even liquid thread may be used.

Match Aprons With Table Sets

It's nice, when you want to give more than an apron, to make a bridge set with four napkins to match the apron. In this way the hostess can have a complete ensemble for evening or afternoon entertaining.

The cloth and napkin set is very effective in organdy, with white and contrasting colors easily the most popular. Applique work on this set is dramatic and effective, but lovely effects are achieved easily through piping in red, green, blue, yellow or others if you don't have the time for applique and need several different sets.

Use Other Materials For Table Sets

Any other type of material that will withstand frequent laundering also may be used. You might investigate the possibilities of solid color percale, muslin, broadcloth or white goods such as dimity and use them with contrasting solid-colored piping.

If you are especially handy with the needle, you might like to work out monograms in a darker shade than the solid and decorate with these. Transfer patterns are available for initialing work of almost any kind. Sometimes it's possible to secure initials and to sew over these so you will have the raised letter effect without too much sewing.

Cotton bags, dyed in any different shade, are another wonderful source for material. It's a good idea to see that the bags are of the same type if you are making a complete cloth-napkin-apron set.

The bags should be opened and carefully dyed to prevent streaks. Allow to dry and press thoroughly. You'll be pleased at the lovely color effects you can achieve by this method. Dye your contrasting colors to match perfectly, too.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Homer Does Some "Back-Seat Sewing!"

Homer Bentley's missus was working on her new sewing machine, when Homer comes in, draws up a chair, and starts talking: "Don't you think you're running too fast?" he says. "Slow down! Watch out! Be careful!"

When the missus finally turns with murder in her eyes, Homer says goodnaturedly: "I thought you might like a little help, dear—like you help me drive the car."

The missus can't help but burst out laughing—and they settle what might have been a quarrel over a friendly glass of beer. The missus agrees to give up back-seat driving and nagging Homer about ashes on the rug. Homer agrees to quit criticizing Sarah's taste for flowery hats and parsley salad.

From where I sit, the key to getting on together is meeting every issue half way—and overlooking any petty differences in tastes—whether these tastes apply to beer or flowery-looking hats!
